Within the past few days the City of Hope has let contracts for approximately $215,748 for work on a long-range program designed to improve capacity and efficiency of the Municipal Water and Light Plant.

Layne-Arkansas Drilling Co., of Stuttgart was awarded a contract for drilling a 12-inch water well which will solve all immediate city water problems. The company bid was $16,748.00. Drilling is expected to start early in September.

Also contracts have been let for steps 4-5-6 in a long-range program of repair at the light plant. The three contracts will represent an expenditure of $199,000 and will include installation of a big new turbine which will be delivered in early October.

Successful bidders were Hightower Electric Co., Turner McCoy Co., and Maschmeyer company.

Gruenwald, Woman Found Unconscious

By JAME L. KILGALLEN

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (INS) — Henry W. (The Dutchman) Gruenwald, 63-year-old key figure in the 1952-53 Washington tax scandal investigations, was found unconscious with an attractive woman today in a gas-filled apartment in a fashionable section of Jersey City.

The woman, identified as Mrs. Anna Anderson, 46, of Catonsville, Md., described herself as an attorney. Police said he had been living recently at Sea Girt, N. J. Gruenwald has a summer place at adjacent Spring Lake.

Gruenwald was dressed in undershirt and socks, when found. The woman, wearing a light robe and in a coma, was on a sofa beside him.

Police entered the three-room flat at the summons of another tenant in the building who had smelled gas.

Gas was flowing from two open jets in the kitchen. A pot of coffee and dish of stew were on the stove. Police said the coffee may have boiled over and extinguished the flames. All six windows in the apartment were open and this, police said, apparently saved the lives of the couple.

Gruenwald, so-called "mystery man" of Washington, is married and lives with his wife, Christine, and a grown daughter, Erna, in a luxurious apartment in Washington. They have another daughter, Mrs. Christine Hartzell, of Chevy Chase, Md.

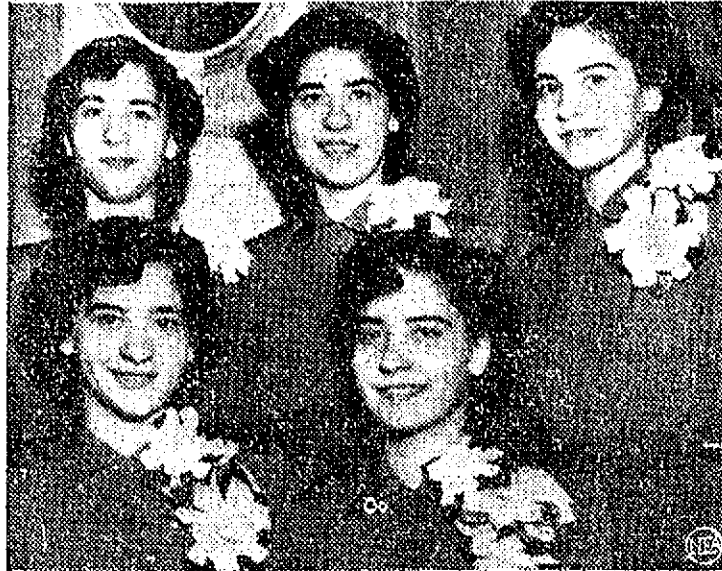

Department Store Sales Drop Slightly

ST. LOUIS — Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District for the week ended Aug. 15 were about on par with less than in a similar period last year.

The federal reserve bank of St. Louis reported the decline from last year was not general.

In the Memphis area and smaller district cities sales volume was two and nine per cent greater respectively. Sales at St. Louis and Little Rock averaged three per cent less. In the Louisville area, sales equaled those of a year ago.

For the four-week period ended Aug. 15, district sales volume equaled that last year. Cumulative 1953 sales through mid-August for the district as a whole were five per cent larger than in 1952.

Morocco Calm on Arrival of Sultan

PARIS (AP) — Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafah was proclaimed the new Sultan of Morocco today.

Moroccans received calmly the dethroning of Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, 44, who was exiled by France to the island of Corsica yesterday, and his replacement by his 64-year-old uncle, Arafah.

The threat of civil war between the Sultan's nationalistic followers and Berber hillmen who rallied to the banner of Fasha Thami El Ghaoui of Marrakech had receded.

No violent outbreaks were reported, either in French Morocco or Tangier, the international zone. But France clamped a steel guard on her North African protectorate. Heavy troop and police patrols were on duty in all Moroccan cities.

The official proclamation of the new Sultan took place in the grand throne room of the Imperial Palace at Rabat.

An assembly of 330 Moroccan leaders, including pashas (nobles) and tribal leaders, and religious dignitaries signed a document pledging their allegiance in the presence of the Maghzen, or supreme council.

Friends of Crows Save Eating Ground

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Several million birds, including most everything on the wing from crows to eagles, don't know it but one of their favorite feeding places is being saved, thanks to everyone from bird watchers to bankers.

The dining spot is the Tinticum marshes, an area of 181 acres of low-lying land within the extreme southern limits of Philadelphia.

There the year around, sometimes heading north and sometimes south, come herons, sandpipers, gallinules, coots, crows, ducks by the millions and short-eared owls. Many other species fill the trees and shrubbery around the area with their songs.

Quintin Kramer Philadelphia insurance man and amateur ornithologist, said that one winter a million pin tails were numbered in the area.

Hempstead Schools Receive $31,626

The schools of Hempstead county received today, August 21, $31,626 minimum school budget aid. They also received $7,732 for transportation aid. This is one-tenth of what they will get this school year. Announcement made by the County Supervisor, E. R. Brown.

Shah of Iran Returns; Former Premier Held

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The Shah of Iran, triumphantly en route from exile in Rome, landed here today.

The Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, is returning after five days of exile caused by the turbulent events in his oil-rich land. He started his return journey after Premier Mohammed Mossaddegh was overthrown Wednesday in a brief, bloody royalist revolt led by Gen. Sazollah Zahedi, the new Premier.

Mossaddegh, clad in pink pajamas and deeply depressed, shakily surrendered yesterday, and is under heavy guard in Tehran.

The Iraqi crown prince, Abdulrahman, was on hand at the Baghdad airport to greet the smiling young Shah.

Also on hand were the Iranian ambassador, Mudhaffar Anlami, and other embassy officials, but the young ruler did not receive them.

The Iranian diplomats, beholden to Mossaddegh, gave their ruler the cold shoulder when he made a stopover here Sunday on his flight from his country where Mossaddegh police were busily rounding up royalists.

The Shah's chartered Constellation, with 20 newsmen aboard, landed after a seven-hour flight from Rome.

He said he would stay here over night in the company of his "good friend," 18-year-old King Faisal of Iraq, and personally fly his own plane to Tehran tomorrow.

It was in this plane that he escaped to Baghdad last Sunday with three suitcases as his only luggage. He said Queen Soraya, who remained behind in Rome because she was tired and ill from recent

'Lenient' Red Policy Is Described

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP) — American prisoners in a Communist stockade near the Yalu River charged wildly as allied war planes attack Red targets near the camp.

Sgt. Lewis J. Villa, Aliquippa, Pa., said the prisoners thought American gliders were coming in to release them in the largest air raid on Suho Reservoir.

"We hoped they were going to land and get us, but when they got closer we saw they were dive bombers."

"We ran out and cheered for them," the 24-year-old veteran of the First Ranger Company said. Chinese guards pushed them back into their huts.

"I was always hoping someone would come and get us out of that camp," he said.

A Missouri sergeant commented wryly that "a man can do lot of things with 18 inches of lenient policy at his back."

"They ran me for seven nights with crippled feet. The Chinese told me they had a lenient policy toward prisoners. I saw about 18 inches of it — a bayonet in the back."

Sgt. Clyde R. Farmer, 22, Flint River, Mo., said he lay on a hill top for seven days, paralyzed from a shell burst.

"We had no food at all and only what water we could catch in a helmet. There were Chinese all around but they never came up on the hill. After seven days I managed to drag myself to a bunker. The Chinese caught me there."

The princess seems determined there shall be no more gossip about her and divorced Capt. Peter Townsend or speculation about her personal affairs. Wherever she goes her movements are shrouded in secrecy.

Two More Arkansans Die in Prison

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today identified 43 more Americans reported by the Communists to have died in captivity.

With the new list, the Pentagon has made public the names of 237 U. S. service men so described in the brief reports submitted by the enemy.

In notifying the families of the men, the Pentagon has emphasized its inability to verify the Red reports and has assured all next of kin that continuing and intensive efforts will be made to establish the facts.

The remaining 185 names of men reportedly the Communists to have died in prison camps will be made public as soon as they have been checked for accuracy of identity and family relationships. The names of the men, all Army personnel, and their families on today's list include:

ARKANSAS
M. Sgt. Alfred L. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Davis, Route 1, Elkins.

Sgt. Roy Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks, Route 1, Heth.

150 More Happy Americans Are Freed by Reds

By FORREST EDWARDS
PANMUNJOM (AP) — A rollicking 150 Americans, the largest single-day delivery yet in the Korean War prisoner exchange, rode out of Red captivity at this wayside village today.

Eager as youngsters, they shied and danced as they were freed with 300 South Koreans.

The Americans were from Camp 1 at Chongson on the Yalu River, the Red stockade for "incorrigibles" who actively resisted Communism.

The repatriates said the first group of Americans from a fourth Red prison — Camp 9 Kanggye — arrived Thursday night at Karsong, the Red clearing site just north of Panmunjom.

All other American POWs sent back have been from Camps 1, 3 and 5, and 5, including some men transferred to these camps from other stockades.

Saturday's shipment was expected to include some Camp 9 prisoners a number of whom were reported only recently captured.

The Reds said Saturday's delivery would include 94 Americans — 30 of them sick or wounded — 300 South Koreans, 23 British, 13 Canadians, 3 Australians, 2 French, 1 Turk and 1 Colombian.

Three Canadians, 2 British, 1 Australian and the Turk were listed as sick or wounded.

The 150 Americans returned Thursday brought the total to 1,405 of the 3,313 the Reds said they held. In all, 6,983 Allied prisoners have been returned of the 12,703 listed by the Communists.

No Communist POWs were sent north Friday for the second straight day, but more were scheduled to be handed over Saturday.

Typhoon winds earlier in the week halted shipments from the Allied island prison camp off Southern Korea.

The Americans returning Friday were in high spirits, but they also bore more reports of Red brutality and mistreatment, especially against Allied airmen.

The company said the meeting apparently was called in a "harassment" move against AT&T which is negotiating with the union at New York.

The workers were expected back on their jobs in four to six hours but meanwhile recorded announcements told long distance callers: "Due to work stoppage on long distance, please place your call later."

Margaret Gets Spray on Birthday

BALTIMORE, Scotland (AP) — A radiant Princess Margaret received a spray of white orchids for her 24th birthday today but kept secret the name of her admirer.

The box of orchids was among many packages that arrived for the princess at Balmoral Castle. She was reported smiling and happy after receiving gifts and congratulations.

Whether the orchids came from rich, handsome Lord Carmichael, her cousin who is traveling to Baltimore for her birthday party tonight, only the princess knew.

Lord Carmichael, 24, has known Princess Margaret all his life and it is known that if they were to become engaged, it would delight the queen.

"Jamie" will be only one of the princess's dancing partners tonight. Among other eligible bachelors present will be Lord Plunkett, Robert McEwen and James MacDonnell.

Actor John Payne to Take 3rd Wife

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Movie actor John Payne is going to be married for the third time next month.

He and Alexandra Beryll Curtis, Long Beach divorcee, obtained a license yesterday. Payne said he is 41, she is 30. It will be her third marriage.

Because he is one of the busiest actors in Hollywood, Payne won't be able to crowd in the marriage ceremony until after his present picture is completed. The couple plan to be wed in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Some Service Interrupted, Striker Jailed

By United Press

Long distance telephone service in Chicago was interrupted today and on picket lines arrested at Kansas City as the CIO Communication Workers stepped up its drive to win wage boosts from the nation's phone companies.

At St. Louis, federal conciliators called a meeting for Monday to try to end the strike by 53,000 CWA members against Southwestern Bell Telephone company in six states.

Picketing generally was peaceful against the Southwestern and Indiana Bell Telephone companies today except for a single incident at Kansas City.

At Chicago, 20,000 employees of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. walked off their jobs "to attend a meeting" and virtually all long distance service was interrupted.

The company said the meeting apparently was called in a "harassment" move against AT&T which is negotiating with the union at New York.

The workers were expected back on their jobs in four to six hours but meanwhile recorded announcements told long distance callers: "Due to work stoppage on long distance, please place your call later."

Romulo Quits Philippine Race

MANILA, Philippines (UP) — Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, former Philippine ambassador to the United States, today withdrew from the November presidential race and formed a coalition of his Democratic Third Party with the Nationalist party of Romulo Maguiness.

Romulo announced he will support Maguiness, former defense minister in the cabinet of President Elpidio Quirino, for the presidency.

He said he decided on the coalition to "insure the preservation of democracy in the Philippines" and to "insure the defeat of Quirino."

Both Romulo and Maguiness broke with Quirino earlier this year.

One Dead in Washington Prison Spree

MONROE, Wash. (AP) — Three hundred inmates of the Washington State Reformatory last night went on a destructive spree that ended hours later with one man dead, three injured and five of the institution's sprawling buildings destroyed by fire.

Half of the rioters were in a cell the center of the buildings. They broke the others on the grounds in hand not to touch in a sudden outburst during the evening recreation period. One group took over one of the reformatory's two large cell blocks and the other ran through the grounds setting fire to the buildings surrounding the recreation area.

Three-hundred other prisoners took no part in the uprising. Guards at first made no effort to stop the stone-throwing, bat-hurling, cursing, howling convicts. The Monroe volunteer fire department was called and was inside the walls within minutes. But they were driven back by stones and bats.

Other fire equipment arrived but none ever got inside the walls despite the hundreds of pace officers who came from all over western Washington, including Seattle, 20 miles to the southwest.

No attempt was made by the convicts to communicate with Warden P. J. Squier or other officials — except to hurl taunts, imprecations and debris through windows and at guards.

No explanation for the outbreak could be had from Squier. The guard said, however, that there had been trouble during the day. He would not explain further.

Most of the inmates at the reformatory are younger offenders in their 20s. Older and more hardened criminals are kept in the Washington State Penitentiary.

Inmates rioting in the cell block tore up plumbing, broke windows and destroyed furnishings. They looted, howled and cursed.

UN Studies New Plan; U. S. Is Against India

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United Nations today studied a new Indian proposal for the Korean peace conference. Some delegates said it would give Communist China and North Korea a veto over the world organization's choices for the parley lineup.

The new Indian move coincided with a step by the United States in its drive to keep India out of the negotiations. U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. announced he would vote against inviting India to the conference table.

The General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee meanwhile kept up its efforts to pick a slate of representatives to sit at the conference. Committee Chairman Joao Carlos Muzil of Brazil said the delegates didn't hurry up, they couldn't finish by next week.

The Indian resolution proposed that U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold communicate the Assembly's decision to the North Korean and Peking regimes "and report to the General Assembly as appropriate."

Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna Menon said it was purely procedural, but U. S. delegates thought they saw a glimmer in it. They said it would require careful study.

A member of the Indian delegation said privately that the resolution would give the Communist combatants a chance to comment on the U. N. decisions, and possibly to reject them. "These two countries are not members of the U. N. and therefore not taking part in the current discussions at U. N. headquarters."

Lodge has maintained that the Korean armistice agreement is clear in its provisions that the "two sides" of the Korean war should choose their own representatives on this basis. Lodge opposed a Soviet proposal to invite Red China and North Korea to attend the Assembly debates.

British and Canadian sources said they favored the new Indian proposal as a wise procedural move. Both Britain and Canada are urging India's participation in the Korean peace parley.

Lodge previously had stated only that he would not vote for India, leaving open the question whether this meant a negative vote or the less-emphatic abstention. His statement of outright opposition last night was designed to attract wavering members to his side.

The United States has agreed to support a proposal recommending Russia's participation in the conference provided the two Communist combatants want her. Adoption of this proposal is assured but Russia has not yet indicated whether she would attend on the basis of the resolution.

Sunday School Lesson

What About Prayer?
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Shortly toward the end of the first world war I was traveling on the train with a relative, a young Canadian who had been involved home after flying for the greater part of the war with the British Royal Air Force. At the time he had come home he was the only man left of his original squadron. All the others were either dead, maimed or prisoners. He had been through all sorts of thrilling escapes, and at that very time had a bullet in his leg.

Flying the "old crates" of that war, he had come down one day with forty-five bullet holes through his plane. Another day a shell had gone right through his observer, between himself and his observer. And another day he made a crash-landing from six thousand feet, suffering nothing worse than a broken jaw.

I asked him how he accounted for these remarkable escapes while so many others had perished. He was an extremely good man, but he did not carry his heart on his sleeve, and he replied, rather sheepishly, "I guess some one at home was praying."

I knew that man's mother, a devout Christian, whose prayers, for any person's, might well prevail. But somehow the answer left me questioning. What about the others who went down in flaming planes? Did God not care for them? Or did they die because they had no godly mother at home to pray for them? Or because some mother's prayer went seemingly unanswered?

Yet, as these unsolved puzzles were in my mind, I realized that this man's experience illustrated something of the real nature of prayer.

He was a dentist, who had gone overseas in the dental service. He did not need to enlist in any other service to do his part. When he enlisted in the R. A. F., he was warned how brief was the life of the average aviator at the front. He was not of a particularly adventurous spirit, as later events proved, but since he had no girl or dependents he felt that he could give himself to the most dangerous service, though he later said, "I take off my hat to the men in the trenches."

During the weeks before the armistice, while seriously wounded, he spoke of nothing but going back. But when the armistice was signed he declared that he would never put foot in a plane again as long as he lived. He died not long ago, and so far as I know he kept that word.

My point is that there was a man, wholly committed and consecrated to his mission. In that particular task he seemed utterly devoid of fear. His life was a prayer, and I think it gave him nerve, strength and skill.
I do not know the mystery of why some die, while others escape seemingly equal dangers, but I do believe that the deepest meaning of prayer is not a matter of physical safety or favor but of the commitment of life to God, and to all that God calls us to be and do.

Ike Has Dope on Soviet H-Bomb Test

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

DENVER — President Eisenhower was back at the summer White House today with a top secret report on how the United States learned about Soviet Union tests indicating Russia may have the hydrogen bomb.

Eisenhower had no comment on the Moscow newspaper Pravda's statement last night that Russia recently tested a hydrogen bomb explosion.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerity told newsmen there would be no elaboration here on the Atomic Energy Commission's quick follow-up announcement in Washington that the Soviet conducted tests Aug. 12, which, on the basis of the commission's information, involved "both fission and thermonuclear reactions."

Fission means atomic tests while thermonuclear is the technical term for hydrogen bomb activity.

Eisenhower returned to his vacation headquarters here by plane last night from New York.

There, at the dedication of a housing project, he declared that families with a proper and decent living standard constitute a better defense against communism than any bomb of whatever kind.

"That is the kind of thing that I preserve this nation," the Chief Executive said in a brief speech at the dedication ceremonies.

There is no doubt now that Eisenhower made his remark about defense against any kind of bomb attack receiving a secret report on the Soviet tests.

When he arrived in New York yesterday morning, the President's first business was an unscheduled breakfast conference with Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and C. D. Jackson, White House adviser on psychological warfare.

Those two officials apparently amplified information which almost certainly had been furnished to

DOROTHY DIX

Duty is Hard Taskmaster

Dear Miss Dix: I am 32 years old, quite attractive, have a 19-year-old son in college, and a wonderful husband. About two years ago my husband was taken ill with an incurable disease and was even more than two years of his life. I have about a year ago, while taking care of my husband's business, I met your magazine and was so lonely for companionship, became attracted to him, and we fell in love. Now I feel I am to have his child, and he demands that either I tell him first and I want a divorce to marry him, or he will tell him himself. I am afraid the shock will kill my husband.

ESTHER S.

Shameless Gigolo

Answer: When I consider all the wives I know who have nursed sick husbands through a long, breaking year or more, and a great deal of money, I am sure that most of them have a lot of money to tell you, it is a lot easier to tell him than to tell him. I place my faith in the old-fashioned woman who weren't connected. I'm old-fashioned and still believe the world will remain in those matters, on an old-fashioned basis.

Miss Baxter was apparently surprised by figures. Dr. Kinsey said he took based on a little more than 5,000 interviews.

Shelly Winters took a different track. "I'm not worried about Kinsey's report degrading the female. As long as there are Marilyn Monroes and Garbos, the female mystery will remain."

Said Peggy Cagle: "For years I've been in Hollywood and I've tried to prove that actresses have a private life. If Dr. Kinsey's report is true then it seems that actresses' sex habits are a human failure and not an occupational one."

"Look, I'm an actress," Roberta Haynes grinned. "Whenever ask a question on Dr. Kinsey, I have only one question: 'Is there a part in it for me?'"

Zsa Zsa Gabor called her reaction to the book from Paris, saying: "Shame on Dr. Kinsey. He should have talked to me and got the truth."

Ella Lauchester raised an eyebrow when asked about her feelings in the matter. "I'll pass this one up," she said. "Wake me up when a book titled 'Sexual Behavior of Dr. Kinsey' rolls off the press."

additional 250,000 saw Eisenhower elsewhere in the city.

The President arranged to confer today with a delegation from the Agriculture Department and from eight drought-stricken states—Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Nevada, Missouri and Arkansas.

Film Lovelies Scoff Kinsey's Sex Report

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Hollywood glamour girls who would hate to see sex reduced to delectable points and per centages, today scoffed at Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey's statistics on female sexual behavior.

Some of the salty film stars expressed disbelief that their plump, rosy, and per centaged bodies in the hinterlands really behave like Dr. Kinsey says they do.

Others dismissed his studies as "a lot of anybody's business."

"Some 16,000 women lined up to confess," Ann Baxter said. "I place my faith in the old-fashioned woman who weren't connected. I'm old-fashioned and still believe the world will remain in those matters, on an old-fashioned basis."

YOUR FRIENDLY DEPARTMENT STORE
FRED ROBERTSON, Mgr.

Dear Miss Dix: I have been going steadily for over two years with a man of 35, three years older than I. We are both single. A month ago I had business out of town for a week and while I was away he took one of the girls in the office to a dance (not an important affair). I heard of it by accident and my pride has been so hurt I feel I should discontinue the friendship. My friend, when confronted with the evidence, said he did it on an impulse, didn't tell me because he knew I'd be upset, and has no desire to break off with me.

LILA A.

Answer: Your friend's explanation sounds logical enough and, if you have nothing further against him, I would advise against breaking up your friendship. His conduct emphasizes the need of two people to have perfect confidence in each other; he evidently was quite certain that you would be jealous, hence his immediate reaction to withhold an unpleasant truth from you. Were he equally sure of your trust, the incident might have passed off entirely. He doesn't sound like either a chronic philanderer or a confirmed liar.

Dear Miss Dix: Is loneliness a sign of love? What I mean is, when my boy friend is gone a few days I cry all the time from loneliness.

SAD AND BLUE

Answer: Loneliness by itself is anything but a positive test of love. While it is natural to miss someone we love, the feeling can be mod and handled in a much better manner than with tears. The sort of loneliness you feel may mean that you have not developed other friendships to a point where they can satisfactorily occupy your time. Neither have you developed your inner resources sufficiently. Both these processes are part of growing up, and should not be neglected.

The Atomic Energy Commission statement by Strauss said this government obtained information about the tests the day they occurred.

In New York, Eisenhower took part in ceremonies dedicating the $2 million dollar federally aided Simon Baruch housing project, a memorial to the father of Bernard M. Baruch, a long-time adviser to presidents.

In his informal speech, the President said that in America:

"We expect to see living, happy families, families who, because of their standards of living, are one nation's best weapon against communism—more eloquent a defense against that insidious doctrine than the most eloquent tongue of any lawyer, or preacher, or teacher—A more sure defense than any battleship or any plane, or any gun, or any bomb of whatever kind."

In Manhattan, Eisenhower also sat in at the first meeting of newly appointed members of a government committee created to help prevent hiring and firing discrimination in plants with federal contracts; registered for the New York City elections to be held this fall; and held a round of conferences.

In traveling through the city Eisenhower was greeted by enthusiastic crowds reminiscent of last fall's presidential campaign. Chief Police Inspector Conrad Rothengast estimated a million persons were along the four-mile route from the Haldorf-Astoria Hotel to the Baruch houses on the lower East Side. Rothengast figured an

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response — right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

5,000 Out on Strike in Arkansas

By The Associated Press

More than 5,000 Arkansas workmen are out on strike in three separate walkouts, and it appears another one is brewing among Little Rock's bus drivers.

Some 2,000 Southwestern Bell Telephone Company workers marched picket lines around Bell of Arkansas in the state today. Supervisory personnel handled long distance and manually operated phone service.

Bell officials said normal telephone service was being maintained. Arkansas telephone workers joined fellow Southwestern Bell employees who walked off their jobs in six states yesterday morning to back up demands for an average 7½ cents an hour.

Last minute negotiations between CIO Communication Workers and Bell in St. Louis failed to shake off the strike. A federal mediator in St. Louis, William T. White, said another meeting was scheduled for today.

The Bell strike in Little Rock was called "100 per cent effective" by Joe Howell, president of the Little Rock board of the CWA. Floyd Taylor, head of the CWA in Arkansas said workers were "not solid" at 40 exchanges in the state.

Meanwhile, in Little Rock, a strike of some 1,100 U. S. Times Corp. employees moved into its 22nd day today. Plant Manager, Stanley C. Aronson says the company is hiring workers to replace strikers.

At Gum Springs, near Arkadelphia, yesterday, an estimated 1,400 construction workers halted work at the Reynolds Metals Company aluminum plant.

An AFL Sheetmetal Workers of America said the strike involved a dispute with Reynolds. He declined to elaborate but unofficial sources hinted it revolved around union charges that Reynolds workers are doing some of the plant construction work.

Reynolds plant manager James Hutchinson said he didn't know anything about the strike and added: "If the union says their argument is with Reynolds they haven't told me about it."

State Mineral Water Seized in Memphis

MEMPHIS, Aug. 20—About 1,500 gallons of Mountain Valley mineral water, bottled in Hot Springs, Ark., was seized here yesterday by federal agents.

U. S. District Atty. Millard E. Feltner charged that curative powers of the water had been misreplicated by the bottler. He said the Pure Food and Drug Administration had received complaints about the water for "some time."

In Hot Springs, J. Clifford Scott, manager of Mountain Valley's bottling plant, declined to comment on the seizure.

The government charged that claims made in advertising pamphlets about the mineral water were "false and misleading." In that they said eight glasses of the water daily were "adequate and effective treatment" for a long list of ailments.

Judge Marion S. Boyd, who signed the attachment order, set Sept. 10 for a hearing to determine whether the water and pamphlets should be condemned permanently.

In St. Louis, a spokesman for the Mountain Valley Spring Co. denied any knowledge of the seizure.

He said that it's a matter involving the Memphis distributor of the water.

Mountain Valley Spring Co., he said, merely sells the water to distributors and has no jurisdiction over the dealers, who handle their own advertising.

Education Dept. to Get Audit Study

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 20—The Arkansas Agency, reported to the new Legislature and set up by the State Education Department, today was decided today at a meeting of the Legislature's Joint Audit Committee.

A resolution to audit the Education Department's fiscal year 1953-54 was introduced by Sen. Jack Clark of Texarkana, who said he wanted a report on that department completed before the Legislature meets in 1955.

Clark indicated he particularly wants auditors to check on how the additional $2 million in state funds appropriated for schools this year is being spent. The Legislature directed that 90 per cent of the extra money go for teachers' salaries.

Rep. L. Weems Trussell of Dallas County, chairman of the Joint Audit Committee, said he had not received any information from Gov. Cherry regarding a "special audit" the governor hinted he would request.

The legislative audit was provided for in the 1953 Fiscal Code Act.

Cherry Will Try to Get VA Money

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 20—Gov. Cherry today said the state would take steps to recover $7,776,000 which he says the Veterans Administration withheld illegally in connection with the on-the-farm training program.

"I am requesting the Arkansas commission of education to get in touch with the state attorney general and request him to take whatever steps are necessary to get this extra money," the governor said at a news conference.

When the on-the-farm training program was started, a flat rate was allowed states in federal aid for each trainee. The program was supervised by the State Education Department and carried out through local schools.

Later the Veterans administration began paying Arkansas only the actual cost for each trainee. Recently the comptroller general has said the VA was without authority to cut the funds.

Pleasant Day Is Weather Outlook

By The Associated Press

Another pleasant summer day was the outlook for wide areas of the country today.

More showers, however, were in prospect for areas along the Gulf Coast and in the northern and southern Rocky Mountain region.

Temperatures continued around seasonal levels in most areas, with some warming in the northern Rockies and northern Great Plains, but a little cooling in the far Northwest.

The warm weather headed into the north central region. The hottest weather was in the far Southwest with yesterday's top reading of 110 reported at Blythe, Calif., and Yuma, Ariz.

Heaviest rainfall in the South was 3.27 inches at Tallahassee, Fla. Welcome showers, measuring up to about a half inch, fell in the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandle.

These bonds were authorized at the general election held on November 7, 1950, at which time the voters also approved a three mill building fund tax for their payment, which will continue annually until all the bonds and interest are paid in full. The present assessed valuation of the taxable property in the county is $10,083,630.00. The bonds are being issued for the purpose of constructing a county hospital.

The buyer may name the place of payment and trustee, and may have the right to convert the bonds to bonds bearing a lower rate of interest, such conversion to be in substantial accord with the Universal Bond Values Tables and subject to the approval of the County Court. The buyer will be expected to pay the expenses of printing the bonds and the fee of the trustee and of Townsend & Townsend, bond counsel, upon whose unqualified approving opinion the bonds will be sold. The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest, as follows: from surplus funds derived from the three mill building tax, on any interest paying date, from funds from any source, on any interest paying date on and after June 1, 1958.

The sale will be held upon sealed bids at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 14th day of September, 1953, in the office of the County Judge in the Court-house at Hope, Arkansas. Each bidder will be required to file a certified check in the sum of $5000, payable to the County to be held as liquidated damages if he is the successful bidder and fails to complete the purchase. Other checks will be returned promptly. The County reserves the right to reject any and all bids. For further information address the undersigned.

GIVEN by order of the County Court this 19th day of August, 1953.

der Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee. Strauss said frankly that:

"It is... a fallacy to assume that a stockpile of atomic weapons in our hands is in itself any longer a complete deterrent to aggressive action."

The U. S. atomic stockpile has been credited in the past by statesmen of the caliber of Prime Minister Winston Churchill with preventing World War III.

But Russia by adding mastery of the H-bomb to her rapidly growing atomic stockpile, is gradually restoring the balance of atomic power and at the same time in fact negating the possibility of civilization-crippling wars.

Former AEC Chairman Gordon Dean said recently, it is no longer safe to be able to destroy an enemy twice over if that enemy can destroy us "just once."

With something like that in mind, Wiley in New York yesterday called for action on the highest level in both governments to see if there is any basis for an agreement on inspection and disarmament to the end that a catastrophe such as the world has never known can be averted.

The AEC indicated it will continue the policy adopted by former President Truman of keeping the public informed of atomic developments all over the world.

It had planned to announce the Soviet H-bomb test yesterday, whether Russia did or not, but was beaten to the punch by Moscow. It explained that its announcement of the Aug. 12 explosion "was made just as soon as the information could be accurately evaluated."

Shah of Iran

trying events, would follow him "very soon."

ROME, Aug. 20—Triumphantly smiling Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, Shah of Iran, flew home today for a royal welcome in the explosive country he fled five days ago.

Awaiting him in his land of carpets, caviar and oil were a new Premier loyal to the monarchy, jubilant crowds cheering their 33-year-old ruler and a panama-clad prisoner under heavy guardshaky old Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

Rome's Iranian colony and legation, which turned its back on the Shah's arrival as a fugitive Monday with 20-year-old Queen Soraya, came out in force to cheer his departure by plane early today.

In a chartered Royal Dutch (KLM) airliner, the Shah and a party of officials and newsmen headed for Baghdad, capital of his own country's next-door neighbor, Iraq.

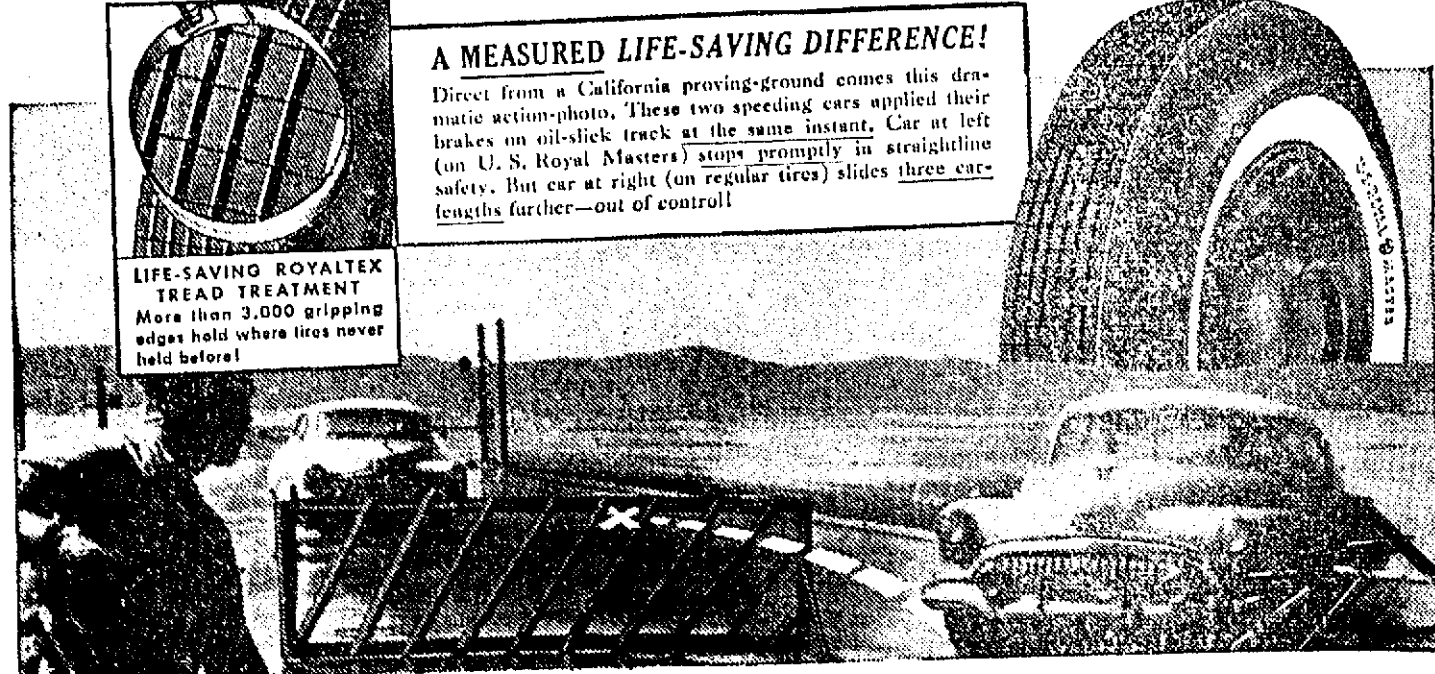

The young monarch planned to lunch early this afternoon with Iraq's King Saïd, then perhaps fly on to Tehran later today.

Queen Soraya, exhausted and upset by the week's excitement, remained in Rome for a rest up. Also left behind was the Shah's strong-willed twin sister, Princess Ashraf. Mossadegh had exiled her because she fought his encroachments on the royal power. She hurried from the Riviera to her brother's side yesterday. Last night she told newsmen she might drop in on Tehran later for a visit.

Water Shadows

A shadow on water is visible only when there are enough suspended particles in the water to scatter the light before it has penetrated the surface very far. If the water is not too muddy, it may show some reflections as well as the surface shadow.

You're safer because of life-saving differences! U.S. ROYAL MASTER

A MEASURED LIFE-SAVING DIFFERENCE!

Direct from a California proving-ground comes this dramatic action-photo. These two speeding cars applied their brakes on oil-slick track at the same instant. Car at left (on U. S. Royal Masters) stops promptly in straightline safety. But car at right (on regular tires) slides three car-lengths further—out of control!

LIFE-SAVING ROYALTEX TREAD TREATMENT More than 3,000 gripping edges hold where tires never held before!

DAY AFTER DAY, YEAR AFTER YEAR, the great U. S. Royal Master holds its undisputed position as top tire of its time.

WHY IS THIS? WHAT CAUSED IT? The answers are plain. The U. S. Royal Master is America's super-tire, of recognized extra mileage, with positive life-saving differences throughout its construction, and in all of its performance.

IN SKID PROTECTION AND STOPPING POWER, the U. S. Royal Master has its own unique tread treatment, continuously renewable, holding peak safety to the last mile of its long life.

IN SIDEWALL CONSTRUCTION and CURB PROTECTION, the U. S. Royal Master is also entirely original and unique. The tire walls themselves are shielded from scuffing damage. The trim, clean whitewalls remain spotless, free from smear and abrasion.

AND WHEN TIRE COSTS ARE ADDED UP, there seems to be nothing to compare with this great tire's year-after-year economy. It rightfully remains America's top favorite in quality, outlasting because it deserves to outsell.

The protection that's always with you!

- The Only ROYALTEX TREAD and TRACTION — skid protection and stopping power beyond all previous standards!
- The Only RENEWABLE SAFETY TREAD — offering you up to twice as many safe miles — without retreading!
- The Only EVERLASTING WHITEWALLS — preserving their trim beauty from cleaning nuisance and expense!
- The Only CURB GUARD* PROTECTIVE RIB — preventing sidewall scuffing, abrasion and damage!

Egyptians Told to War on British

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's acting president, Vice Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, opened the Moslem Feast of Bairan today with a call for Egyptians to prepare for total war against "British occupation."

His warning to Britons to evacuate their military forces from the disputed Suez Canal zone was cheered wildly by an estimated 100,000 Egyptians packing the big square outside the former royal palace. Nasser spoke in the absence of President Mohammed Naguib, who is on a pilgrimage to Mecca.

"We must prepare ourselves for a fight of all the people, not only a group of commandos," Nasser said. "We must teach the women and children how to defend our country. This is the way to liberation."

"You must be ready to fight at any moment and at any place, and we shall be leading you," he declared.

Life is limited," he added. "One can die in the Suez Canal zone as well as anywhere else if fate wants it so."

Army Commander Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim told the crowd the Army had instructors and equipment to arm a great number of volunteers. Groups of well-trained men have been formed already, he said, "and their numbers will be doubled in the coming year."

Informal Anglo-Egyptian talks to try settling the Suez dispute are still on officially although a scheduled meeting last Monday was cancelled by the Egyptians. No date for the next meeting has been set.

Jockey on a Spot That He Likes

CHICAGO, T. Eddie Arcaro may have put himself on a spot by taking over Native Dancer for Saturday's $100,000 American Derby, but it's a spot every other jockey would like.

This particular spot should be worth at least 10 per cent of the $70,000 the Dancer, expected to earn by running nine other 3-year-olds into the Washington Park turf track this Saturday.

The Dancer is expected to be a 1 to 5 favorite for the nine-and-a-half-mile derby on the basis of the sensational win record compiled under Guerin. He should easily raise his lifetime earnings to about $750,000.

But even the greatest of thoroughbreds have off days and it's not inconceivable that Saturday, with a strange rider, Native Dancer could falter. Arcaro's lean, leathery face undoubtedly would be tinged with red should this happen.

Guerin experienced this very sensation at the Kentucky Derby, where the Vanderbilt horse lost his only start—a head decision to Dark Star.

Jamie K., the horse Arcaro has ridden for Jim Norris in a number of duels with the Vanderbilt ace, has given up trying to beat Native Dancer so Saturday's secondary choices seem to be Harry N. Earl's Sir Mango, James Cox Brady's Landlocked, Dumtreath Farm's Van Crosby and the English-bred gelding, Stan.

Natchez, who beat Puro Blue 3-2 Wednesday night, was untouchable for the first time since May 21 when he defeated the first 1000.

Meridian indicated Monday 4-2, with two out in the night, a jump the Sports two last place, Hot Springs 4-1 decision over Greenville.

The Bathers around the Bucks into fifth place and pulled Hot Springs up to the 500 mark. Only one game out of the fourth.

FI Dorado extended its second place lead over Puro Blue to a Ray Cross 3-run homer in the game and a half as Hal Brightwell blanked the Judges 3-0 on two hits for his second victory in two nights.

Natchez catcher Howard Platte agreed to let FI Dorado play the Sports on six hits.

Oilers Extend Second Place CS Lead

The long future for Natchez and Hot Springs in the Cotton States League is over. The Indians are out of the event. The Bathers are playing 1000 baseball.

Natchez defeated Jackson 7-5 last night and moved out of the cellar for the first time since May 21.

Meridian indicated Monday 4-2, with two out in the night, a jump the Sports two last place, Hot Springs 4-1 decision over Greenville.

Dispute Erupts at Time Corp. Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A dispute erupted today over how many workers were on the job at the Time Corp. plant in Little Rock.

Plant Manager Stanley C. Ammon said about 500 strikers had gone back to work and that, counting nonunion and supervisory personnel who never quit their jobs and replacement, which have been hired, the work force totals about 500.

Den Allen, who was obtained from Natchez as a replacement for the missing 1-1 Austin, earlier, the league had voted against FI Dorado and Allen this late in the season.

Meridian was leading 2-0 when Meridian checked for four runs in the eighth to take that game. Hum Hinton gave the Miller's only seven hits but four of those came in the eighth. Charles Gross checked the Sports on six hits.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

WHEN Karen had gone Dave went back indoors, sat down by the big windows and lit a cigarette. It burned, between his fingers, the ashes fell to the floor, and when he felt the heat against his skin he tossed it into an ash tray, and sat looking at the mountains.

Look at yourself, Dave.

He could not immediately; everything in him was concentrated upon new pain; it was as if he held his breath and listened.

After a while he said to himself: I thought when I died there'd be no more real pain ever and no loss. I believed that nothing could touch me again. But it has, a hundred times, the quick hurt; and now Em—Karen.

Why? Because it must, because he was a living man. That's it, he thought, looking at but not seeing the blaze of sunset—as long as you're alive there's pain, of one kind or another.

Karen's gone—this I brought upon myself; for this, I believe, I am wholly responsible.

For as long as he thought he had a choice, then the wound was mildly self-inflicted? Perhaps he'd had no choice, had made merely a large, empty gesture. But realizing that couldn't alter the result.

Now he spoke to Tim. He said: I thought when you died that, to all intents and purposes, I died with you. It seems that I did not.

For few men the road to Damascus, the sudden, blinding light of recognition. Rather, the imperceptible arrival. Then by slow inches, he came alive; not Karen's image and voice alone had drawn him back; there had been many hands and voices; some had touched, and spoken to, him before ever he came to this place, but then he had been numb and deaf. For no man, however much he may believe he desires it, lives solitary.

He thought, shaken with shock, all of it against my will, the taking and the giving, the gradual interests and involvements; none of it easy, nor discernible, and all ways with pain, the return, the resurrection.

Karen had said it clearly: "Like growing up."

He could see now, and dimly, the separate yet sometimes merging patterns, the pattern of his adolescence and that of his maturity. If—and he was beginning to recognize this—he had reached out to grasp that which he desired, and beyond desire need as support and reassurance, whatever the outcome, the fabric of reality would have been torn, past repair perhaps. Now look at yourself, he thought, take a good, long look.

My son died and I mourned him, I unprisoned myself in grief. For I could not keep him nor recall him. It was not only Tim I buried.

Karen is not mine; I could not have her simply because I wanted her. But now, perhaps I have them both and forever, by letting them go.

He was drained and empty. He looked down at his open hands and then up, across to the darkening mountains, the whole world darkening yet informed with tumultuous light.

He got up, feeling stiff and sore, and moved about, washing the cups and plates, setting them away. He turned slowly in his hands the cup Karen had used. And after a while he set out to Cas' in the apple-green dusk. The mountains were dark violet, and in the sky one aspiring streak of gold.

When he reached the farm, they were sitting down to supper, and he sat with them. He ate, hardly knowing he was eating. And told them he was going away.

The boys made outcry, but Joe said, "I guess you'll be back," and Dave nodded. Joe's eyes were clear and sober, gripped only for the moment. They trusted him, and his promise.

Mrs. Rogers said: "Well, pass your plate, Mr. Barton. We're going to miss you; you've been a fine neighbor."

Cas grinned. "Dave ain't goin' to the ends of the earth," he reminded her.

"No," Dave said. He looked at the small, quiet man. "I've seen there and back," he told him.

Cas nodded. He knew. He didn't have to say anything.

Herb asked, "Say, Mr. Barton, when you get home and there's foreign stamps, will you save 'em for me?"

"That kid," Joe commented, with disgust, "he's always got his hands out."

"I'll save and send you the stamps, Herb. We get a lot at the office, and I'll sound everyone I know too. Joe, your father has a camp key; you can always go there for books. And you must all use the camp," he went on. "I told Hank to, and Karen."

Positions in Majors Are About Settled

By BEN PHLEGAR

Associated Press Sports Writer
The race for final positions in the major league standings appears to be all over in both circuits except to find out who's going to finish third.

Although there are still five weeks to play it's mostly just a question of waiting for the World Series — for Brooklyn and the New York Yankees — and for net year.

The third place races, however, are close in both leagues. Cleveland holds third in the American League by only half a game over the Boston Red Sox. St. Louis has a game edge on Philadelphia in the National.

To an individual player, it is worth about twice as much to be a member of a third place club instead of with a fourth place club.
The players on the first four clubs share in World Series receipts.

Except for the third place battles, at least six games separate the clubs in their present positions in the National League. Only seven games divide the last place St.
Louis Browns from the sixth place
Athletics in the American League, with Detroit sandwiched in between. But none of these clubs has shown any indication that it will improve greatly or collapse between now and the end of the season.

The league leading Dodgers and Yankees each have a nine game edge. Brooklyn has 36 games to play, New York 35.

In yesterday's curtailed activity
the Dodgers thumped the New York Giants 100, St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 53 and Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 52 in the National League. The Yankees whipped Washington, 7-0 and Cleveland bounced Detroit 13-7 in the American.

Carl Erskine, Brooklyn's biggest winner, posted his 15th victory of the season and his second straight fourth shutout over the stumbling Giants. One of the league's best pitchers when he has his control, Erskine didn't walk a man.

Robin Roberts fell victim to Philadelphia's sieve-like defense as he failed for the second time to win his 21st game. The Phillies committed four errors and four of the Pirates' five runs were unearned. The loss was Roberts' 10th.

Wilmer (Vinegar) and Mizzell doubled home the winning runs in a sixth inning rally as he hung up his 11th victory for St. Louis. He gave up seven Chicago hits but needed help from Gerry Staley to get the last out in the ninth.

The Yankees' bombardier Bob Porterfield, the league's shutout leader, for seven runs in his five game winning streak. Porterfield, who once toiled for the New Yorkers, has been beaten 10 times this season, five times by the Yankees.
Eddie Lopat, won his 11th straight against Washington dating back to June 26, 1951.

Cleveland broke its four game losing streak with an 18 hit attack at Detroit including home runs by Harry Simpson and Jim Hegan.

Frisco Gives Brownies Cold Shoulder

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bill Veeck, seeking a new home for his floundering St. Louis Browns, got the cold shoulder from Northern California baseball men and some sports writers yesterday.

And Veeck, who has been trying to sell the Browns and perhaps the Philadelphia Athletics in a two-team American League westward deal, didn't sound enthusiastic, either.

"Neither city (San Francisco or Los Angeles) is close to a major league franchise now," said Veeck.
"That opinion, I believe, will change. Just when I don't know, but it is not an immediate possibility."

Veeck buddled with three official representatives of San Francisco.
He conferred with Los Angeles officials earlier this week.

Official San Francisco reaction wasn't reported.

But two Pacific Coast League owners, Eddie Mulligan of Sacramento, and C. M. "Buck" Laws of Oakland, said they would demand heavy financial compensation — in the courts if necessary — if a major league club is brought to the city.
